

FIGURE 1

at the time of the investigation, the plants were in the early stages of growth and were not yet flowering. The plants were identified as Phragmites australis (Cav.) Rostk Schmidt. The plants were found in a wetland area near the water body. The plants were found in a wetland area near the water body. The plants were found in a wetland area near the water body.

FIGURE 2

FIGURE 4